A. F. F. CONSTABLE

MURDERER AT COLEMAN

The murder of Constable Steve O. Lawson while in the performance of his duties in connection with the enforcement of the Alberta Liquor Act adds another page to the history of crime which has branded this district.

The murder followed an effort of the A.P.P. to intercept a car believed to have contained liquor, destined to this district or in transit to Montana. The car was driven by a boy of eighteen, Steve Piccarliello, son of Emilio Piccarliello, well known throughout the Pass as "The Emperor" or "King of Bootleggers." The car was seen passing through Coleman by the A.P.P. bound eastward. The police, under Sergt. Scott, immediately made chase.

At Blairmore other cars belonging to Piccarliello were in an effort to mislead the police and after a few minutes maneuvering the suspected booze car secured the open main trail and attempted the return towards British Columbia. A phone message called out Constable Lawson and town Constable Houghton at Coleman and they were on the scene just as the car entered the main street. Passing in front of the Hardware Store, the police signalled the car to stop and seeing that no attention was being paid their signals they stepped back and as the car passed two shots at a level angle were fired by Lawson. One of the shots hit the boy's hand, but not seriously wounding him. The boy, instead of halting, stepped on the gas and continued. Lawson commanded a car standing by the opposite side of the street and compelled the owner, W. Bell, to make chase. The chase continued to Crow's Nest, at which point the police were obliged to stop and return, the boy having considerably outdistanced them. The police car was followed by the boy's father in a big McLaughlin special, which also turned at Crow's Nest and came back to Blairmore.

On or about 7 p.m., the father received a wire or phone from some party at Michel, stating that his boy was dying as result of the gunshot wound in the hand. He is believed to have immediately armed himself and with a woman in the car proceeded to Coleman. Stopping in front of the A.P.P. barracks he signalled and Mrs. Lawson appeared in the doorway of the barracks. Pick asked if Lawson was in and the woman called him out. Lawson had just been eating his supper and was unarmed. He walked over to the side of the car, placing one foot on the running board, when Piccarliello hit him with his pistol. Before Lawson could reply, two shots in quick succession greeted him. He ducked and missed them but attempted to get away to safety. When but a few feet from the car a third shot hit him in the back and the constable fell to the ground, while the car began to pull away. The shooting was witnessed by Mrs. Lawson and two of her eldest children, who stood in the doorway of the barracks. The police at Blairmore were immediately notified and in a short time all avenues of possible escape were guarded by police. Trace of the car was lost for several hours, until about 3 o'clock on Friday morning the car was located in a back street in Blairmore. The Alberta Hotel was strongly guarded, this being the headquarters of the suspect. Police assistance came from all over the province and from southeastern British Columbia and escape was practically impossible. All night and all day of Friday police were searching various Italian homes and premises in the town, fully confident that the suspect was in hiding within the town's limits.

At 4.15 p.m. Friday, Piccarliello was located near Madawaska Street in the Pelletier Addition of the town. He and his woman accomplice, Mrs. Lawson, had been hidden in a coal box near the street. As the police drew in sight the woman ran from the box around to the next street and entered the residence of Mrs. H. Olbeau, where she asked that the police be advised of her whereabouts. Piccarliello, discovering that the officers were members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force, walked towards them and gave himself up, remarking that they were gentlemen. He was equipped for firearms, but had none on his person. He informed the officers that the gun was with Mrs. Lawson and that she was at Mrs. Olbeau's residence. Piccarliello was loaded in a car and taken by an armed posse to the barracks at Frank and later removed to Lethbridge. The woman was taken later and conveyed that night to Calgary. Both will appear before Justice Gresham at Coleman on Monday next for the preliminary hearing on the charge of murder.

The inquest into the death of Constable Lawson concluded at Coleman on Saturday night, the jury returning an open verdict.

The late Constable Lawson was a very efficient officer of the Alberta Provincial Police force, and had joined that force but a few months ago. Prior to joining the A.P.P., he was engaged as town chief of police at Macleod and later held a similar position at Fernie. He was a member of the Masonic Order, and that body took charge of funeral arrangements. The remains were taken to Macleod on Saturday and on Monday afternoon were laid to rest in the Macleod cemetery under full military honors. He leaves a wife and five small children to mourn their loss.

Piccarliello came to Blairmore several years ago, in fact just prior to prohibition. At that time his wealth could be represented in a due bill of something like four dollars. Under prohibition he amassed wealth and is believed to be worth in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. He was noted, not only as a bootlegger, but also somewhat of a philanthropist and benefactor. At Christmas times he had followed the practice of distributing flour and other necessities to those not so blessed with the good things of life and last winter distributed two carloads of flour alone were distributed to needy families within the town. He is a member of the town council, having been elected thereto by a large majority some two years ago. He has a large family.

Mrs. Lawson is quite a young woman and wife of one of Piccarliello's chauffeurs.

Piccarliello was not by any means a desperate character. He had often been obliged to carry on his person large sums of money and for his own protection procured a permit to carry a gun. He had probably never intended that that gun should take a human life and it is generally believed that the dastardly act of Thursday evening last was committed on the spur of the moment of excitement following the news of the death or dying condition of his boy.

Since her arrest, Mrs. Lawson admits having fired one shot at the late constable and it is probable that that shot may have been the fatal shot.

The bullet was found in the breast, after having passed through the body and piercing the heart. Death was almost instantaneous.

Mr. A. A. McGillivray, K.C., of Calgary, will prosecute. Defense lawyers not yet decided upon.

FINAL TO BE REPLAYED

What was to have been the final game for the Cranbrook Cup, scheduled to take place on Hillcrest football grounds on Saturday evening, was adjourned to Michel for Sunday afternoon, when the Blairmore and Michel teams met and played to a one-one draw. Both teams were in excellent form and a splendid exhibition was witnessed by over a thousand spectators.

Following the game, the executive met and decided that the play-off would take place at Blairmore on Saturday evening next, when a real game may be looked for. Everyone should turn out on this occasion and help our boys prove their superior mettle.

Freedom Of The Seas Is Involved In U. S. Seizure Of British Boat

Washington—Unless the defendants take an appeal from the decision of the Federal Court in Boston and permit a higher tribunal to pass upon the claim of the United States prohibition laws to jurisdiction over the seas beyond the three-mile limit, the British Government is expected here to take up the subject diplomatically with the State Department.

Up to the present the British embassy has confined itself to requests for information as to the facts connected with the seizure and searches of vessels under the British flag by prohibition agents and has made no appearance in the resulting legal proceedings. A complete lack of sympathy with the operations of the rum runners on the part of the British officials is said to have caused the assumption of this attitude but now that cases have begun to emerge from the court dockets, throwing the weight of judicial decisions behind the claim of extended high seas jurisdiction, it is understood that there is to be a change in the course of the London Government.

It is the British contention that the issues raised by the court decision in Boston in the case of the British schooner "Grace and Ruby," which was held for rum selling beyond the three-mile limit, are far more grave and the importance is far more question of the punishment of a few smugglers, or the enforcement of domestic customs laws.

In the British view there is involved the great question of freedom of the high seas. It is possible for any nation to extend its jurisdiction beyond the old recognized limits at its own pleasure and without reference to the other maritime powers, it is regarded by the British as highly important that some understanding should be reached as to the extent of the powers claimed.

Folklore Odds Must Be Stamped.
Ottawa—On and after November 1, printed and illustrated matter of all kinds, including books and pictures and also wooden or fibre-based pens and pencils imported into Canada, must be stamped in such a manner as to indicate the country of their origin. Regulations to this effect have been passed by the Government as provided for in the last session's amendments to the Customs Tariff Act.

Shipping Grain Via Vancouver.
Calgary—More grain is being shipped from Alberta farms to the Pacific coast this year than last, the Douglas grain inspector here announced today. The grain is of the finest quality. Only No. 1 Hard and No. 1 Northern is accepted at the Pacific coast.

Will Continue Relief Work.
Geneva—The International Committee for Russian Relief, it was announced, has decided to continue work under the direction of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, of Norway. The organization will bear Dr. Nansen's name, its title in French being "Action Nansen."

Prominent Miner Drowned.
Nome—James Anderson, prominent miner, operating gold mines between Cripple and Rodney Creeks, west of Nome, was drowned while attempting to ford Penny River, nine miles from here.

Strong British Forces Prepared To Deal With The Trouble In Turkey

Constantinople—The British are mobilizing every available warship, man, horse, automobile, cannon and rifle within reach of the trouble zone. They are preparing to deal a tremendous blow by land, sea and air if provoked by the Kemalists army, which, according to latest reports, is concentrating feverishly around Ispah and Chanak.

All the British barracks in Constantinople have been evacuated, and troops are marching in the streets of the capital, which is having a sobering effect on the exuberant Turks. The British soldiers are headed for strategic points on the Straits.

General headquarters has issued an official order directing the wives and families of British officers and soldiers to prepare to embark at once.

Transports with British cavalry, heavy artillery and supplies are arriving at Salsapasha, on the Ispah River.

Japs Are Ordered Out Of Russia

Chang Chun, Manchuria—The conference here between Japan, the Soviet Government of Moscow and the Far Eastern Republic of Siberia appeared to have reached a deadlock, with the Russian demand that Japan evacuate the northern half of the island of Sakhalin immediately. Japan refuses to do this until she has been indemnified for the massacre of Japanese at Nikolayevsk in 1920. Adolph Joffe, envoy from Moscow, laid a flat ultimatum on the conference table when he notified the Japanese delegates that the Moscow Government would refuse to sanction the proposed trade agreement between Japan and the Far Eastern Republic so long as "one Japanese soldier remains on Russian soil." Joffe continued with the declaration that Japan must immediately evacuate Sakhalin as well as Vladivostok.

Prosperity Wave Coming

Willow Sees Big Development Period Ahead of Dominion

Calgary—Canada is standing on the eve of a period of development in population in the next quarter of a century which will dazzle the world, according to Sir John Willison, President of the Western Canada Colonization Association, who spoke before a combined meeting of the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs of Calgary and the Calgary Board of Trade at the Palliser Hotel here.

Calgary's leading citizens were highly entertained at the luncheon which was in the form of a dinner to welcome the promoters of the association and to hear his address.

Sir John gave a general outline of the aims of the association, while Mr. Brown, Vice-President, gave a lengthy and detailed account of how the organization expects to function in bringing new citizens to Canada. Included in the gathering were Lieut. Governor Brett, Frank Fries, President of the Calgary Board of Trade, who was chairman; Alderman John W. Huggill, Pat Burns, Mrs. D. A. Bruce, Vice-President of the Women's Canadian Club; Captain J. T. Shaw, M.P.; Captain Robert Pearson, M.P.; Mrs. A. J. Gordon, Secretary of the Women's Canadian Club; Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., and many others.

Destructive Typhoon.
Honolulu—Mitsuo Jimeno, one of the seven isles of Isp. in Northeastern Japan, has been swept by a typhoon, one of the most disastrous in the island's history, which destroyed 1,100 houses and damaged 45 vessels, according to advices received here. Nippo Jiji, a Japanese newspaper in Honolulu, Nine lives were reported lost.

$40,000 Won by Fire.
Winnipeg—Fire caused a loss estimated at $40,000 to the plant and building of the W. J. Boyd Confectionery Company, Spence Street. The loss is covered by insurance.

The men of the Constantinople garrison are constructing entrenchments at Scutari on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus, which will be second line of defence, the first being at Yarlus, a small railway station between Salsapasha and Ispah.

The British police forces in the capital have been greatly augmented, and will probably be assisted by French gendarmes. It is estimated that the present total British strength in Constantinople and the Dardanelles is about 16,000 men, which, when reinforcements, now on the way, arrive, will be increased to nearly 75,000 effectives. These forces will be further strengthened by large detachments from the Atlantic and Mediterranean fleets.

The British are enrolling Russian refugees with military training for auxiliary work, while Russian Kalmaids from Manchuria are being recruited as horse traders. It is expected that eventually Great Britain will have more than 100,000 men in the disturbed area.

RUSSIA WOULD SUPPORT TURKS

WILL LEND MORAL SUPPORT, IF NOT FORCE OF ARMS

Moscow—Russia intends to support the Turks morally, and perhaps will give them munitions if they should be needed; but it is considered in Moscow as extremely unlikely that Russian troops will be sent to assist the Kemalists if they attempt to take Constantinople.

While preferring the Turks to the Allies as the holders of Constantinople, nevertheless it is understood the Soviet leaders have decided to take no steps which might bring them into a real war with Great Britain.

The Russian state might give advice, either from a distance or on the ground, but no troops will be sent, it is stated here.

Some of the Russian leaders declare that Constantinople should be Russian, but next to that they prefer Constantinople Turkish, but strongly influenced from Moscow. Nevertheless, all Russia is tired of war and the leaders are pledged to the task of reconstruction.

Destructive Prairie Fire

Over 3200,000 Loss In Blaze on Indian Reserve

Leinbridge, Alta.—Two hundred men, white and red, after battling against a terrific prairie fire on the southern shore of the Blood Indian Reserve, north of Cardston, succeeded in putting out the blaze after it had done damage estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000. The work was aggravated by a strong wind from the north and west fanning the flames until they became a furnace. The fire burned across a 35-mile front taking everything before it. Thousands of tons of hay went up in smoke, besides machinery, camp equipment and supplies. Winter grazing over 100,000 acres was wiped clean. Indians believed to be in the path of the flames are still unaccounted for. Whistler, across the St. Mary's River were menaced for a time. The fire-fighters returned to Cardston and Riley telling of the fury of the fire. It is believed the grass became ignited by matches, run over by a motor party bound from Macleod to Cardston, for Indians near the road halted the party just after they had passed, pointing out the blaze and asking for help.

Big Increase In Grain Movement

Reports Show Considerable Advance On Number of Cows Handed

Winnipeg—Resumption of large grain shipments from Manitoba points consequent on dry weather enabling farmers to continue threshing, combined with augmented receipts from Saskatchewan and Alberta, points, brought the Canadian National Railway's movement of cars to 1,175 on Sept. 19 against 483 on the same date last year.

During the present crop season, which commenced September 1, 14,319 cars of grain have been moved, this being a considerable advance on the same period last season, when 70,388 cars were brought into Winnipeg from the west.

Veterans Ready to Enlist.

Vancouver—Veterans who served in the Near East during the Great War are volunteering here steadily for a possible contingent to Constantinople. Some of these have pointed out to the U.S. Gen. Victor Odium that the toll in the Turkish advance is characteristic of the Turks' method of warfare. Local veterans of the Mesopotamian campaign expect further trouble, and an extension of the fighting to Mesopotamia, General Odium says.

Banish Noisy Women

Interrupters at Sitting of Irish Parliament Have Been Hastily Ejected

Dublin—At a sitting of the Irish Parliament, Maud Gonne MacBride and Mrs. Charlotte Despard were expelled from the strangers' gallery. The expulsion was ordered because of their persistent interruption of the proceedings.

Widow of the editor of the Irish Citizen, who was executed in Dublin in 1916, interrupted from the gallery on the question of prisoners, and, together with another woman who had signed in her protest, was ejected. During the debate on the constitution, Thomas Johnson, Laborite, moved an amendment to omit the preamble and substitute a declaration of Ireland's sovereignty, accompanied by a statement of the right of the Irish people in the future to annul the treaty on due notice being given. Ernest Blythe, Minister of Local Government, in opposing the amendment, argued that such playing with words, and formulas would "only whet the appetites of the nationalist, who revel in such theoretical displays."

May Winter Again In Arctic

Crawford Party May Not Be Able to Return This Season

Vancouver—According to a message from Nome, Alaska, there is every indication that Allan A. Crawford, of Toronto, leader of the party of Canadians sent to Wrangell Island last year by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, will have to remain there another winter. On August 18 the power schooner, Teddy Bear (Captain Joseph Bernard), left Nome for Wrangell Island to bring out the Crawford party, which had gone there to hold the island for Canada.

Elevator Destroyed by Fire.
Saskatoon—Fire destroyed Brook's elevator at Mervin with 7,000 bushels of grain, half of which was wheat. Two other elevators were saved by the efforts of the local fire fighters with buckets and chemicals. The property was fully insured and the companies that own it will start building again immediately.

Germany Paid Allies 10,000,000 Marks.
Berlin—The Government, according to the newspapers, has paid to the Allies 10,000,000 gold marks, as part of the installment of 25,000,000 due in liquidation of Germany's private pre-war debts to the Allied nations.

Express Messenger Killed.
Kenora, Ont.—Ralph Flowers, messenger in the employ of the Canadian National Express Company, was killed at Hunter while trying to board a moving train.

Hope Turkish Tangle Can be Settled By League Of Nations

Bolivia and Chile May Have War

Geneva—The relations between Bolivia and Chile are such that "grave difficulties" threaten unless the mediation of a friendly power of the arbitration of the League of Nations can be secured. This declaration is made in a letter received by the Secretary of the League Assembly from Alfredo Gutierrez, Bolivian delegate to the assembly. He points out that Bolivia has been unable to reach an understanding with Chile by direct negotiations regarding revision of the treaty of 1904.

Says States Should Help Great Britain

Hamilton Man at Cleveland Teaches On Turkish Situation

Cleveland—The United States should be prepared to co-operate with Great Britain in handling the Turkish situation that the peace of the world may be maintained, declared Sir John Gibson, of Hamilton, Ontario, at the 12th convocation of the Supreme Council, 23rd Degree, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masonry for the Northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States.

Sir John touched upon the Turkish problem in conveying the fraternal greetings of Canadian Scottish Rite Masonry to the Council.

Had Adventurous Voyage

Captain and Wife Ninety-One Days On Pacific

Victoria, B.C.—After being tossed about by the giant waves on the Pacific for ninety-one days, Captain George W. A. Ward and his wife arrived here from the Orient with the Chinese Junk Amy. Practically one continuous storm buffeted the little ship and twice in typhoons she lost her rudder. Then while Captain Ward was guiding his craft through a dense fog on the side of Victoria, a great black form loomed dead ahead. Captain Ward showed the tiller hard over and the steel hull of a Japanese steamer passed within four feet of the Amy's stern.

Large Increase in Wheat Acreage.
London—According to the estimate of the New South Wales Government, says a Reuter dispatch from Sydney, the area in the state under wheat cultivation amounts this year to 3,869,000 acres, representing an increase of 170,000 acres over last year's total acreage.

Determined to Enter Thrace.
Constantinople—Hamid Bey, the Turkish representative here, informed the Associated Press correspondent that it was certain the Turkish army would march on the British if the British attempted to interfere with the movement of Turkish troops across the Straits to Thrace.

Forestry Student Killed.
Fort William, Ont.—J. E. Brennan, a forestry student, whose home is Deseronto, Ont., and who was working in the woods at Flinders, near Fort William, was instantly killed by a falling tree while cutting down timber.

British Subjects Do Not Change Nationality Within The Empire

Vancouver—"I should like to suggest that you abandon these words 'immigration' and 'emigration' in respect of the movement of British subjects to the dominions," urged Major A. E. Bletcher, of London, head of the Empire Exhibition mission, touring the dominions, in a speech to the Canadian Club here. "These changes of residence are not changes of nationality. They are simply moving from one part of their country to another."

He suggested that the word migration be used in future. They are still British subjects anywhere in the Empire.

Imperial unity was declared to be the keynote of the proposed exhibition of products of Great Britain, the dominions and the colonies, to be held in London in 1924.

Discussing land settlement, the speaker stated the dominions could not expect to obtain efficient farm labor from the Mother Country. There is employment at home for more efficient farm laborers than we have," he said. "But a man's previous occupation is not necessarily a vital factor in determining what success he may have in a new country."

The best dairy farmer I saw in West Australia was eight months previously a tram conductor in Lambeth," he said.

Major Bletcher said the Prince of Wales was taking more than a pecuniary interest in his position as chairman of the exhibition general committee, and was attending all meetings and taking a lively interest in the proceedings. "His interest in the exhibition is a very real one," he said. "He had had from His Royal Highness during his present tour."

London—It is rumored in London that Premier Lloyd George offered his resignation at a meeting of the cabinet ministers at Chequers, the Premier's country home, but that the resignation was refused.

It is also asserted that Lord Curzon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, threatened to resign if his policy for securing the co-operation of France was not supported by the cabinet.

For the moment, Lord Curzon's policy has triumphed, and intense satisfaction is expressed in England at the prospect of summoning an international conference to settle the Near Eastern question.

Quarters hostile to Premier Lloyd George are making the most of the alleged difficulties in the cabinet. Their spokesmen among the press accuse the people of the overseas dominions to grasp the fact that Lord Curzon's policy removes from the world the menace of another war.

The suggestion that the Thracian question can be settled by making Thrace, from the Turkish hinterland of Constantinople to the Mesta River, in Macedonia, autonomous under the jurisdiction of the League of Nations, has been officially submitted by Bulgaria to France and Great Britain, the Times learns. The author of this plan is the Bulgarian premier, M. Stamboulski, who is in Geneva. The Times thinks that with the necessary safeguards the suggestion may solve many difficulties.

It is reported in the lobbies at Geneva, says a Reuter dispatch from that city, that the delegates to the League of Nations from the dominions have telegraphed Premier Lloyd George impressing him the urgency of his going to Geneva to explain to the League the situation in the Near East.

Reparation Claims Against Turkey

Armenians Now Resident in Canada Ask for Compensation

Ottawa—Canada has reparation claims to present against Turkey. What the total will be cannot yet be definitely stated, as the claims are now being rigidly scrutinized at Ottawa prior to presentation to the Reparations Commission, but they may run into millions of dollars. Turkish massacres in Armenia are understood to be responsible for a large portion of the claims. In these instances, claims have been presented by former Armenians, now resident in Canada, for losses in Armenia. A number of these claims are said to be obviously inflated, hence the need for close scrutiny.

LIQUOR ACT SCORED

"This Liquor Act of Alberta is made to please different classes of people and practically every section has a loop hole, which makes it look almost impossible to satisfy the law. It appears as though a direct attempt is being made to satisfy the whims of the fanatic, the politician, and the bootlegger; and, in the long run, it is making poor legislation."

The above comment was made by Magistrate Summers, of Calgary, recently when a charge came up for hearing against a Calgary druggist.

NEW CURLING CLUBS

From several Alberta points comes the news of the formation of curling clubs, and the start-up of new curling rinks. No winter sport fits into the life of Western Canada so far as participation is concerned, better than curling. Like golf, it appeals to the old and young of both sexes. It is a friendly game, good exercise, and a sport that does much to promote good feeling; and it makes our Western winter seasons of joy and pleasure to an ever-increasing number of visitors, and thus has a good influence on Western Canadian life.

GET THE BIG OFFENDERS

Recently when Justice of the Peace, C. C. Short, was trying an Alberta Liquor case in High River he declined to impose more than the minimum penalty, although the party offending pleaded guilty to having beer for sale on his premises. As a matter of fact samples were taken from nine barrels, five of them being overstrength. Mr. Short's reason for this was that in his opinion the law is discriminating in that the person who offends in a small way is being prosecuted and convicted while the other offenders, such as brewers and warehouse men are allowed to go scot free. He further stated that he believed that beer was being shipped out from different centres to points in Alberta in large consignments with very little effort, if any, on the part of the Alberta Liquor department to stop such traffic. How much heavier it would be to check consignments at the point of shipment, rather than to attempt to trace it all over the province. He contends that the checking up should be done at the large centres and in this he is right—High River Times.

MONEY A CURSE—HELL HAVE NONE OF IT

"Money is a curse and the root of all evil. I will never touch another penny as long as I live."

This was the extraordinary resolution made by a Brighton man, who, of his own free will, has become penniless and is determined to live without money.

He is Henry Mitchell, who until recently was a commercial traveller employed by a well-known firm and was earning $500, or about $200 a year and commission.

When Mitchell came to his decision he gave up his job, drew $200 commission due to him and gave it to his wife. He had $28 10c left. This he gave to the local poor, and with his last penny bought a newspaper.

Referring to his action, Mitchell, who is middle-aged man, said: "I have come to the conclusion that money is the cause of all unhappiness in the world. Three weeks ago I decided I would never touch it again. In future I shall endeavor to lead the life of Christ on modern lines."

"I believe I possess gifts that the ordinary man does not, and as the result of my experience I shall be able to give advice to people with business or personal worries. In return for my services I shall be willing to accept only food, drink and lodging. All I ask for is bread and water."

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE

By Dr. Frank Crane

No right exists alone. It must always be balanced and limited by other rights.

No law can compel a man to work. Every one has a fundamental right to quit work if he wants to.

The gist of the strike, however, is not the right to quit work, but the right to induce others also to quit.

But there are prior rights to this. For instance, there is the right of the contract. If you agree to do a thing, you must do it, and the man to whom you made your promise has the right to force you to do it by law, and make you pay damages if you refuse. The right of contract is the very basis of civilized life. Without no business could possibly be carried on. Remove it and society would immediately revert to a state of savagery.

Workers have a right to unite, and form labor unions. They have a right to quit work when they want to, and by peaceful means to urge others to join them. But with this right goes a responsibility. If a labor union is going to have this power it should be incorporated and held responsible for its use of power. Power without responsibility is a menace to democracy.

Another right that is prior to the right to strike is the right of the general public to live and carry on business.

The general public in the United States could not live as it now lives without the railroads. Therefore no organization has the right to stop transportation.

The people could not subsist as they now do without milk. Any strike that could cut off the milk supply of the city would be tantamount to the assassination of thousands of children.

Neither could the public subsist without coal nor without the post office. It is perfectly proper, therefore, that the government sees that such basic industries as these are carried on, and that no organization persuades everybody from ceasing to operate them.

There are other fundamental laws that people forget. One of these is that every worker should be paid wages enough to keep him effective. Employees should seek a maximum wage as a matter of mere common sense.

Another law is that workers injure themselves individually and as an organization unless they seek maximum production. To regulate for minimum production and to bring a whole body of workers down to the level of the inefficient is as vicious as it is silly.

Another general law that is as important as any of these—that is, as important in the matter of production—is that without a constant effort toward good will industry breaks down.

All this talk about fight, or theories that are based upon class opposition, or movements that depend upon anger, vengeance, and the like, cut out the very heart of industry, which is good will. There can be no prosperity that is not based upon intelligent co-operation between employer and employee.

Raising New Canadians Through Means Of A Broad Immigration Policy

"I have spent my life in a great section of my own province, and I have seen the progress of the white people from the provinces of Bukovina and Galicia, and who have wonderfully developed the land upon which they settled," says A. S. Shandro, a prominent farmer, who served two terms in the legislature of Alberta. "They were of farming communities to begin with, and in coming here, came to settle upon the land, to farm or to work for farmers. They have prospered, as they have made the country prosper. They are not like the immigrant who came here merely because the country offered high wages, and who now finds himself with less than nothing. I was willing to work for $4 a week, even when I was a man, but I look back to that time when I, too, took my place as a fully qualified New Canadian. That is the term I like to hear applied to the people who come here from foreign countries, and who come here to bring in a bad man, one who will never make a citizen, one who never makes a good citizen, and no matter from what country he may come, Canada will suffer."

"Canadians need not worry where their immigrants come from. If only they know that the right men are coming in. They must be hand-picked. They need not be as carefully selected if they come from Great Britain as they need to be coming from any other country. Get the right men and women into the country, and you won't have the 'floaters,' as I call them. For instance, as I said here, I am entirely against men coming to this country leaving their families behind them. My experience is that 99 per cent. of those who come without their families, even though they may come fixed in the intention of having them follow, go wrong. I have found that 99 per cent. of those who have brought their families with them, make good."

"We want assimilation, and the inclination is to force it. That is bad; let it permeate gradually. Tell the people how to farm properly, and in their quick attitude to learn they are soon well enough off to take their place in their second generation without any outward differences from the Canadian-born or even second generation. I have instilled this in my own family, and would like to give you a personal illustration of what can be accomplished in raising New Canadians out of a broad immigration policy based upon careful and even selection. I came to this country under such a policy, as a boy of 12, being brought by my parents. Now I have my own children in the schools of Alberta, and one of my boys won the championship in the debating competitions in the high schools of the whole province. As assimilation of the right kind, I submit, brought about, too, I believe, by a sane, constructive and general policy of hand-picked immigration."

Tree-Line Advances West

Progress of Settlement Stops Prairie Fires and Gives the Trees a Chance

What has happened in the United States middle west is also happening on the Canadian prairies, namely, the tree-line, which fifty years ago, was located at a comparatively short distance west of the Mississippi and Red Rivers, has advanced several hundred miles into what was formerly the bad prairie. The line has not moved forward bodily, but "islands" of groves of trees are today to be found like outposts in districts, where there were formerly no trees. This is believed to be due to the fact that the progress of settlement has stopped, more or less completely, prairie fires and given the trees a chance. Progress westward has been slow because the prevailing winds are from the west, and tree seeds are carried largely by wind. In the last fifteen years, however, the rate of advance has been more rapid largely because of the more determined fight against prairie fires. Trees are now spreading southward from the well established forest along the Saskatchewan. In addition to this normal process of forest growth individuals and communities have planted groves all over the west. The Dominion forest nursery station at Indian Head has sent out over sixty million trees to forty thousand farmers in the last twenty years, and with this civic and school planting is helping to change the appearance of the prairie.

Experimental Farm Facts

Valuable Information Gained Through Tests Being Conducted

A brief study of the reports of the various Dominion Experimental Farm Superintendents makes evident the fact that they contain much that is of value to the farmer. By writing to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, a copy of the report of the nearest farm or station for the district can be obtained. Numerous experiments are conducted at these farms and they are frequently as designed to deal with local problems. At Beaverdell, Alberta, for instance, some special experiments with alfalfa seed inoculation have been conducted. At Brandon, Man., we learn that reclaimed agricultural lands have been fed with sewage to replace part of the soil previously fed, and that the screenings should be mixed with straw. For over two years while this mixture was fed there were no digestive troubles and the horses appeared to keep in better condition than before. At Scott, Saskatchewan, we learn that when barley was a little heavier in price, screenings were profitably fed to lambs. From the farm at Neepawa, Nova Scotia, we are informed, experiments in feeding steers have proven that cheaper gains can be made by feeding a cheap grade of hay along with ensilage corn, and that ensilage corn has a higher value in feed than steers. The hay roots. At Kapuskasing, Ontario, tests have shown that on dry knolls or any soils lacking in moisture, better results may be expected from seedling alfalfa without a nurse crop than with one. Regarding sawdust, the superintendent at Invermay, British Columbia, reports that the yields obtained compare quite favorably with field corn. These extracted statements by no means convey a fitting idea of the large amount of information to be obtained in the reports of the superintendents, but they illustrate in a very limited way the facts that are forthcoming.

The Modern Age

Good Things of Life Never So Easy to Command as at Present

I am writing this in the living room of my home on a typewriter that weighs no more than a moderate sized book. Light is provided by a lamp in which burns two incandescent bulbs.

In an adjoining room is a telephone from which I can talk to any city on the continent. On the wall is a thermometer which indicates the flow of gas in my furnace and keep the room at an even temperature of 70 degrees.

Almost within arms' reach are several shelves of books filled with the most profound and beautifully expressed thoughts. The floors of my home are cleaned with a suction sweeper, operated by electricity while the clothes are put through an electric washer and ironed in an electrically driven mangle.

My children attend a school where they are given a better education than the sons of kings could command a century ago. I enjoy all these things, and yet I am an ordinary citizen with an ordinary income, living in an ordinary way. Tens of thousands have as much as I have and more. And yet I kick and wonder what ails the world.

Were the good things of life ever so easily at the command of the ordinary man as they are today? And if we are not careful, isn't there a danger that we will upset the greatest civilization the world has ever known?—William Feather in the Philadelphia Ledger.

Canada's Attractions

In discussing colonization both the press and public speakers have pointed out recently that "Canada is one of the few remaining countries that offer agricultural lands on terms within the means of a large class of emigrants, located by a form of democratic self-government and with a climate acceptable and desirable to the white race."

By making your purchases from your home merchant you are contributing direct to the progress of the community in which you live.

Hidden German Flags

Banners of Enemy Knights of Garter at Windsor

What has happened to the banners of the ex-Kaiser and seven other enemy knights of the Garter which were removed from St. George's Chapel, Windsor, in May, 1915? The mystery of these banners of the highest order of British chivalry was recently revealed by the Dean of Windsor in a sermon he preached in Norwich Cathedral. "The fact is," he said, "no one knows what has become of them. He had hunted high and low for them without avail."

It is understood that they are safely hidden at Windsor and will not be produced until the King asks for them. Sir Henry Parramh Burke, garter king of arms, and the representative appointed by the late Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, the former garter king, to take down the banners are the only two people who know the exact spot in which the banners are hidden.

"When Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty died the secret of the banners was handed down to me," said Sir Henry Burke recently, "and I am bound not to reveal it. I am able to state, however, that the banners are perfectly safe and in good condition, and that they are at Windsor, where they were placed in a certain spot by Sir Alfred's custodian."

"It was decided when they were removed not to destroy them, as they may one day be called for by the King. Unless the King asks for them, it is possible that they will remain in their present hiding place for hundreds of years. It is impossible to predict their ultimate destiny. They are dead to the public."

Perhaps in some future century they will be uncovered—a strange relic of the turmoil of the great war.

British Land Legion

Novel Suggestion For Means of Colonizing Canada is Put Forward

The novel suggestion that a "British Land Legion" be formed as a means of colonizing Canada, is being put before the British authorities and the public by F. C. Wade, Agent-General for British Columbia. It is proposed that members of the "Legion" should wear uniforms and be under semi-military discipline, would be guaranteed three years of farm work and at the end of that period would be placed in possession of one hundred acres of land. During the three years they would have acquired valuable experience in Dominion farming methods, and would then be entitled to a loan from the Federal Government to enable them to finance the workings of their land.

Sunflowers for Silage

The practical value of sunflowers for silage is now so well established that the Alberta Department of Agriculture has announced it will provide for the distribution of sunflower seed to settlers either for cash or on credit. Similar provision is being made for distribution of corn for seedling purposes indicating that Alberta may now be regarded as a corn growing area.

Tuberculosis Ravaging Coast Indians

Unless something is done to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among Indians of Alert Bay and other coast reserves, the Indian will be only a memory, according to the report of F. P. Burton, secretary of the Canadian Coast Anglican Mission. Establishment of a tuberculosis hospital is urged upon the Federal Department of Indian Affairs.

Apparition Gave Warning

Claim Made Antigenish Ship Was Outdone 46 Years Ago

One of the stories of the "Unknown" which were retold during the recent Antigenish County manifestations at Caledonia Mills, and while Dr. Franklin W. Prince, New York, of the American Society of Physical Research, was conducting his investigations into the mysteries, was that which concerned Capt. George A. Hatfield, well known deep-sea mariner, of Parramh, N.S.

In the spring of 1876, Captain Hatfield left Cienfuegos, Cuba, in the barque J. T. Smith, bound for Boston with a load of sugar. On the night of April 20, with the weather clear and the wind favorable, Captain Hatfield retired, leaving the mate in charge of the ship. He had been sleeping for some time when he was suddenly awakened by what seemed to be a man shaking him by the right shoulder and telling him to keep the vessel off Cape Sable point. Aroused from his slumber the captain saw a man disappearing through the cabin door. Thinking it was the mate, he went on deck and questioned him, but the mate, expressing much surprise, assured him that he had not been in the cabin.

By this time a thunderstorm had broken suddenly, but wind still blew from a favorable quarter. Captain Hatfield went below and was soon asleep. The same messenger as before awoke him and he was able to distinguish, before the visitor disappeared on deck, that he was dressed in a grey suit and wore a white straw hat. When the captain went again on deck no sign could be seen of the stranger.

Captain Hatfield went below, determined to watch, but lying, fell asleep. Again he was awakened by the apparition. It was then about midnight, and the mate had abated. The skipper determined to heed the thrice given message and had his vessel's course changed one-quarter of a point, and gave orders for a sharp lookout, as the Florida coast was being near.

On the following day at noon, the lookout sighted what he thought to be a lighthouse. Captain Hatfield thought that none should be near and ran for the object. It was soon seen to be a schooner, waterlogged and sinking, and on closer approach, was found to be the United States schooner D. T. Tibbot. A boat was sent to her and Captain Amesbury, of the distressed vessel, his wife and young son and several of the crew were rescued. Within a short time the disabled schooner sank.

When Captain Hatfield told of his dream to "Captain Amesbury and Mrs. Amesbury, the latter confidently stated she believed the apparition to have been that of her father. As a memento of the rescue Captain Hatfield carries a valuable gold watch with the following inscription: "Presented by the president of the United States to Captain George A. Hatfield, of the British barque J. T. Smith, Parramh, N.S., for humanity and courage in the rescue of the crew of the sinking American schooner D. T. Tibbot, April 21, 1876."

Scientists Claim That People Of Rural Districts Will Live The Longest

The Livestock Markets

Reports Show General State of Trade Is on the Wane

The weekly report of the Livestock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows an improvement of prices of livestock and a better state of trade than has recently been the case. In the first week of April prices for cattle at all the principal markets of the country were up compared with the quotations in March. Calves at Toronto showed an upward tendency, but elsewhere they were stationary, except at Edmonton, where there was an increase. Hogs at Toronto were unchanged, but other markets displayed a weakness, owing to the rush of supplies. Sheep at Winnipeg and Calgary were quoted not only higher than in March but 42 better than last year. Toronto was $1.50 ahead of the prices quoted at the corresponding period last year, but Montreal was down and Edmonton stationary. The total receipts of livestock at Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton in the first three months of the year were 118,854 calves, 37,608 calves, 199,006 hogs, and 51,577 sheep, compared with 136,797 calves, 30,109 calves, 159,907 hogs, and 48,000 sheep in the first three months of 1921.

Fighting the Stem Sawfly

Deep Ploughing and Sowing of Immune Crops Best Methods of Extermination

"The loss to Saskatchewan wheat growers, due to the western wheat stem sawfly has been greater in the last four or five years than from other grasshoppers or hoppers. Last year it is safe to say that varieties did more damage than grasshoppers and hoppers combined," states M. P. Tuill, Commissioner of Weeds and Seed, Branch of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture.

"Mr. Tuill is issuing a warning to farmers to take all possible precautions in areas where damage was severe last year, and is urging them to co-operate with neighbors in the conduct of preventive measures. 'Where wheat stands fall over last summer just before harvest,' he said, 'the chances are the sawfly got in its deadly work. Usually the infestation is heaviest along the edge of the field.'

"It is not the adult fly that actually does the damage. The adult fly lays an egg on the wheat plant in June. Soon it hatches, and the young worm begins to bore its way slowly down through the hollow of the stem. By the end of July the insect has reached the ground, where it weakens the plant by boring the walls thin. The first strong wind blows the plant over, often out of reach of the binder, and the larva remains in the stubble for the winter, emerging the following June as an adult fly to begin all over again."

The methods of control which have been found most effective are deep ploughing of the land and sowing immune crops. All stubble land infested should be plowed deep between harvest and the end of May of the following year. A mouldboard plow worked with a jointer so that stubble is left close to the surface will do the work, and the stubble should be plowed at least six inches deep.

"Where the land is badly infested immune crops such as oats and flax which are entirely free from sawfly damage, should be sown in early and winter vire, which are only slightly subject to attack by the sawfly. Kibana wheat suffers some loss, but not so much as spring wheats or spring vire."

Should Forget Petty Jealousies

Premier Greenfield Pleads for More Unity Between East and West

A plea for closer unity between Canada's east and west was the keynote of an address delivered to members of the Canadian Club, Montreal, by Hon. Herbert Greenfield, Premier of Alberta. "What we in Canada need," he said, "is a closer knowledge of each other. There is too much distinction between east and west. Let us forget petty jealousies and get together for the good of the Dominion." Premier Greenfield vigorously defended the western farmer, declaring that he was as good a Canadian citizen as could be found in the eastern provinces or in the Old Country. "There is no such thing as American domination in the west," he added.

British Columbia Potatoes for Cuba
A shipment of 500 tons of British Columbia potatoes was recently made to Havana. The potatoes were all grown in the neighborhood of Vancouver city.

Shorter life for city dwellers is the sentences pronounced by Dr. John Brownlee of the British Medical Research Council, in a recent report that body summarized in the medical magazine, the Lancet. His evidence lies in the latest Government tables of the expectation of life, but he can give no reason for the earlier demise of the urban dweller except that he ages earlier, which the reviewer in the Lancet thinks is begging the question. After giving his opinion that the use of death rates in a community is very practical, the reviewer goes on:

"At the age of 15 the rural male's expectation of life is nearly two and a half years longer than that of the inhabitant of county boroughs at the same age. At the age of 40 the corresponding expectations are 25.80 and 20.35 years; at 55 they are 15.48 and 13.86 years respectively, and so on. That is, life on the average is shorter in town than in country; and this fact may perhaps be taken as evidence in Dr. Brownlee's words: 'It has been rendered probable that the inhabitant of the country is at these ages (between 55 and 65) biologically about six to seven years younger than the inhabitant of the town.'"

"But the question remains as to the cause of the greater incidence of premature death in towns. Dr. Brownlee gives an unhesitating opinion on this point. 'In dealing with valvular disease of the heart, which has a higher standardized death rate in country boroughs than in rural districts in the proportion of 35 to 62, he concludes that the amount of this disease is less in the country than in cities when judged by the life-table death rate; and that it is not a matter of more of the disease being present in a city, it is rather a matter of the disease developing at earlier ages.'"

"Dr. Brownlee's view put in scientific terms, is that the premature aging of the tissues is an important factor in the earlier age at death in towns. Does this statement help us much? The fact is obvious that if death is preceded by senescent senescence in earlier years, than in rural communities. But by the term senescence we are led to think of processes which are approximately normal as age advances. Some of these may be really brought to the same sequence as the heart, which—pathological invasion by microbes, mechanical injury, or toxins—which shorten life before old age. But to rest content with the proposition that premature aging means premature old age stops short of investigating the which may lead to the discovery of the malignant agents producing premature old age. In cancer it may be a dietetic error. An excessive meat diet and the influence of alcohol or nicotine excess have been suggested in this connection."

"Scientific knowledge is extended by increasing differentiation of causes, not by being contented with any ready-made sequence of events, whether it is senescence, or acclivity, or marasmus, or malnutrition, or poverty, or any other medical or social complex."

Neglected Literature

Many Books Are Forgotten that Deserve Better Fate

Even in our own Canadian literature, all of which is so comparatively recent, one may find books that have been almost if not quite forgotten, and that deserve a better fate. To how many of us, for instance, is Hal Burton nothing more than a name? Who today reads "Sam Slick the Clockmaker," or "The Old Judge," or "Nature and Human Nature"? And yet Thomas Chandler Haliburton was perhaps the one native writer of British North America who really approached the rank of genius. And how many of the people of Ottawa have read James de Mille's "Idle Households," a vivid story of the cabin camps at Rome, or suggested Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad," or "A Strange Manuscript Found in a Copper Cylinder," which is both a jargon and a story of a man's journey and a brilliant satire on the modern worship of wealth and material success?—From the Ottawa Journal.

Protecting Big Game

Alberta Considering Amendments to the Game Act

Big game in Alberta will be further protected, it is announced to the Game Act are passed. Under the new amendments a big game hunter can kill only one moose or one mountain goat, instead of two, and a special license may be obtained to kill big game in forest reserves of the Rockies only during the month of September. The penalties for killing $2.50 for residents and $1.50 for non-resident hunters.

SPENDS MONEY TO PERPETUATE BUFFALO BUT CLAIMS OF MEN WHO MADE HISTORY FOR CANADIAN WEST UNSETTLED

The annual general meeting of the Royal North West Mounted Police Veterans' association was held at the court house, Edmonton, September 12. Delegate Rev. H. C. Lewis Hooper and J. J. Roberts represented the Vancouver division, Col. J. J. Walker represented the Calgary division, and Comrades V. H. Smyth and P. C. Engle represented the Edmonton division. The reports for the year were received from the different divisions, and at the conclusion of business election of officers for the coming year took place, which resulted as follows:

Honorary President—Major General J. H. MacBrien, Ottawa.

President—Lieut. Col. P. C. H. Primrose, Edmonton.

Vice-President—Rev. J. M. Comyn-Ching, Edmonton.

Headquarters chaplain—Rev. H. C. Lewis Hooper, Vancouver.

Executive committee—Col. J. E. Sanders, Calgary; J. C. King, Calgary; Col. J. J. Walker, Calgary; J. J. Marshall, Calgary; Rev. H. O. Lewis Hooper, Vancouver; J. J. Roberts, Vancouver; Sidney A. Kelly, Vancouver; J. D. Nicholson, Edmonton; V. H. Smyth, Edmonton; J. L. Jamieson, Edmonton; G. Goodall, Edmonton; P. C. Engle, Edmonton.

Secretary pro tem—J. S. Piper, Edmonton.

Pioneers of Northwest

At the conclusion of the elections a most interesting speech was made by Comrade J. J. Roberts, of Vancouver, who spoke as follows:

A world-wide reputation for the exercise of intelligence, tact, patience and courage, justice, and a square deal was earned by the North West Mounted Police over forty years ago when it undertook the duty of making the great lone land of the Canadian west safe for the explorer, safe for the pioneer, safe for the settler, and even safe for the Indian.

The old force is no more—in its place is the newer creation of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, built up on and largely sustained on the reputation of the "Old Force."

The pioneers of the old force are passing away. Of those who made history of the Canadian west, only a few remain, and the government of Canada has today but a hazy recollection of the invaluable work done by them, and no doubt would be entirely forgotten were it not that at almost every session of the house at Ottawa, some friend reminds our politicians that these old faithful servants are still waiting for some tangible reward for service acknowledged by the world as never have been equalled or excelled.

The buffalo, like the old force, have passed away, or nearly so, but the Canadian government is doing something and spending considerable money to perpetuate and propagate the buffalo, but the men who made history for the Canadian west are allowed to pass away with little or no recognition and promises unfulfilled. Rewards were given to those who served in the 1855 rebellion but are still denied to us veterans of the old force. This is largely our own fault, because we have silently borne the load and insult all these years. Not even the medal was given us until years after, when the government on the eve of an election, thought it might be worth that expenditure to secure our influence in that election. The citizen-soldier received his script we did not. The present force receives $2 per day against our $10, and a much larger pension at the end of fourteen years' service. There are not here who gave the best years of their lives in the force, and that life was far more strenuous and entailed many more hardships than now; and yet the paltry pension they receive is a disgrace to any land such as this, and this blame lies largely at the door of those who from time to time, have controlled the management of the force. I will say that I know that the late Commissioner Irvine did make some effort to get the government to do the right thing, but Commissioner Perry told our association that it would not do for him to champion our cause as he was only a servant of the government. So, comrades, it still remains with you to do your own fighting, and while our claims are getting older, and our ranks thinner, surely this association should still have men in it who can raise a voice loud enough to make even our legislators at Ottawa stand up and take notice. We are only remembered when there is work to do. Even Commissioner Perry jumped at our offer to form a reserve force, when Canada was smothering with sedition during the late war, and Mr. Rowell, president of the council, also quickly realized the value of the offer and for once he spoke words of comfort to us veterans. This is what he said, in part:

Would Form Reserve

"With reference to the veterans' association, I have but the highest regards. I think it only right to say that these men have made a very fine offer to the government, and I hope to have a bill introduced whereby (Now, listen to this) these men who have served their country with such distinction may constitute a reserve which may be called upon in emergency."

And yet, this same gentleman tells us, and the house, that as our claims were side-tracked by the government of Sir John A. McDonald, and the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it was too late for this government to take the matter up. Too late to redress our claims, but still time to accept our offer of service.

South African War

In the South African war it was the same; the services of those old veterans were gladly accepted, and their splendid record on the field added new glory to the old force and to the Canadian flag. In the last great war, it was the same story, the same efficient service, and again, to quote Mr. Rowell, who spoke to the house as follows: "I wish I had time to tell of all the valiant deeds of the North West Mounted Police, but I will only mention two, Michael O'Leary, V.C., and Constable Park, V.C., D.S.O., who set a standard of courage to be remembered, and I should also mention that ex-members of the force provided our army overseas with two major generals, four brigadier generals, and colonels, majors and captains by the score. It shows the type of men in the North West Mounted Police." But why enlarge, what else would you expect? These gallant fellows are out just doing what you old veterans did in your day, and that reputation and those traditions made by you will never be the standard for those who follow."

Are Intensely Loyal

And yet, the government of Canada still permits the stigma of 1885 to remain unredressed, and strange as it may seem, I want to say that, in spite of the treatment meted out to us, in all the empire you cannot find a body of men so willing and so ready to answer the empire's call. With all our kicking; with all our growling, we remain intensely loyal to our empire and to that old Union Jack, that flag that flown through the ages has swept the seas, and been carried in the vanguard of a thousand battles and proclaimed to the oppressor the death knell of his hopes, and to the vanquished the dawn of a brighter day.

We veterans of the Royal North West Mounted Police do not hand together solely for financial or other ends (though at times these must be considered). There is something more. It is the interest in each other's welfare, remembering the joy in each other's joy; sorrow in each other's sorrow, and the spirit of all for each and each for all, that should be the greatest aim of the association, and unless we keep this ever our watchword, the success of our association will never reach the heights of usefulness it should.

Benefits of Association

I have been told of some one asking: "What benefit do we get by belonging to the association?" My answer is: "Nothing," if you think you have finished your work when you have paid your dues.

Membership in the association is nothing, less than nothing, unless you are prepared to take your part and your share in making it the success it should be, and this can only be done by the co-operation and united efforts of the whole.

Therefore, if there be any here who feel that they have not been as faithful as they should, and perhaps a little too ready to blame the other fellow, comrade, turn over a new leaf and begin to find out what you can do to help in the work. You will find it interesting, from which you will derive the greatest pleasure, in knowing that you have been the means of helping to make it easier for some other less fortunate than yourself.

Increased Demand Lower Prices

STUDEBAKER factories are today operating at full capacity in an endeavor to meet the widespread demand for Studebaker motor cars.

Despite the full production schedules which have been steadily maintained, the combined Studebaker factories, on August 1st, had more than 15,000 unfilled orders on hand.

Savings resulting from capacity manufacture were passed on to the public through Studebaker's reduction in prices, effective August 7. It is a Studebaker policy of seventy years' standing to share manufacturing savings with the customer.

The quality of Studebaker cars has not been decreased one iota. At their new low prices they represent the greatest intrinsic values on the market. In justice to the purchasing power of your dollar, see the Studebaker line, embracing 13 models, before you buy any car.

Note these new exceptional prices.

CROWS' NEST-PASS MOTORS

Agents and Distributors for the Crows' Nest Pass, Blairmore.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

A meeting of the shareholders and directors of the Blairmore Coal Co. was held here yesterday.

A dance was given in the opera house last night by Mason's orchestra.

Just one terse sentence, "You're next" written across the front of a paper telling of the murder of Constable Lawson at Coleman, constituted the principal item of interest in Tuesday morning's mail to Detective Hunter, head of the provincial liquor enforcement squad in Calgary. Underneath the warning was a drawing of a skull and cross bones.

Rumor has it that a well known and popular young man of Blairmore has this week taken upon himself at Vancouver a wife. In the person of a former short time resident here. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Foot will take up residence in one of the West Canadian's new apartments.

Steve Piscariello, who effected an escape from the Alberta provincial police on Thursday last, was apprehended by the B. C. police at Michel and was fined one hundred dollars for carrying a concealed weapon. The car driven by him in his daredevil stunt is held by the B. C. authorities.

More and more each year our larger exhibitions are recognizing the value of educating the boys and girls, and encouraging competitions in live stock and other lines. The general work of the Alberta School Fairs can hardly be overpraised for its practical usefulness and educational efforts.

BEAUTIFUL HALL DEDICATED

Another milestone in the history of Oddfellowship in Bellevue was passed, when the new hall was formally dedicated on Monday night.

The ceremony took the form of a public event and was witnessed by upwards of two hundred Oddfellows, Rebekahs and their friends.

Harold Houghton, D.D.G.M., of Coleman, was master of ceremonies and was assisted by Past Grand Barlass, Crowder, Hogan, Bartlett, Hallworth, Chappell and others.

The customary altar was erected, representing the seven stepping stones—Purity, Friendship, Love, Truth, Faith, Hope and Charity. These were erected by James Crowder as herald of the north, W. Hogan as herald of the south, W. J. Bartlett as herald of the east and Herbert Barlass as herald of the west, who each in turn proclaimed to the four corners of the earth that the Bellevue hall had been duly dedicated to the work of Oddfellowship.

Following the dedication ceremony a brief programme of speeches and music was rendered. Principal among the vocalists were Mesdames Litherland and Wood and Messrs. Goodwin and Tilley, with accompaniment by Mrs. H. Barlass and Mr. Ed. Royle. The speakers included the chairman, Mr. A. Hallworth, W. H. Chappell, W. J. Bartlett, District Deputy Houghton, James Crowder, Herbert Barlass and George Pattinson.

At this stage the meeting was informed as to the financial standing of the undertaking, showing that upwards of $11,000 had already been subscribed towards the outlay representing nearly fourteen thousand dollars. And the Rebekah branch, which a substantial interest in the enterprise is hoped and expected that within another six months the entire amount of capital will have been subscribed.

Refreshments were served, after which dancing was indulged in until 1:30 a.m.

Quite a number of members of the Subordinate and Rebekah Lodges of Blairmore and Coleman were in attendance.

BOARD OF TRADE'S SECOND LUNCHEON

The second luncheon to be given under the auspices of the newly organized Blairmore Board of Trade took place on Thursday evening last at the Greenhill Grill.

Quite a number were in attendance and enjoyed the magnificent spread of good things.

Reports were heard from several committees, all of whom showed progress.

Matter of impressing upon the town council the necessity for improved street crossings and of introducing a scavenging system were given some consideration.

As a means of identification it was decided to make use of a membership card in preference to the proposed button.

CHURCH NOTES

Some slight changes are taking place in connection with the pastoral charges of St. Cyril's Catholic church at Bellevue and St. Anne's church, Blairmore.

Owing to the increased number of members, it is found necessary to have two masses every Sunday at St. Anne's church, Blairmore—Low Mass at 10 and High Mass at 11 a.m.

For some years the both parishes have been looked after by Rev. Father Cosman, who has found that the work required assistance, and after consultation with the Lord Bishop at Calgary, it was decided that an assistant would be sent him.

The new priest will shortly arrive to take up his work.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

John Mansell is at present out of work, suffering from an injury to his ribs.

Mr. Ross Richards is at present an inmate of the hospital at Lethbridge.

W. Ironmonger has accepted a position as fireboss with the Hillcrest Collieries.

Hector McDonald is recovering very nicely from the injury he received whilst at work.

Jack O'Neill, since his return from the East, seems to be prowling around Hillcrest a lot.

Mr. Tonks, the new school principal, is building himself a residence on the hill back of the new school.

A branch of the order of Knights of Pythias is to be instituted at Hillcrest on Wednesday, October 11th.

Ed. Royle's Ford tried to repeat the performance his horse used to do by climbing telephone poles the other day, but it wouldn't go. One of his guests, Mr. Howcroft, tried to get out through the windshields, but came back. However, nobody was seriously hurt and everybody enjoyed it. Henry is O.K. again.

Quite a number of football fans journeyed to Michel on Sunday to witness the final of the Crahan Cup series, between Blairmore and Michel teams. This game should have been played at Hillcrest on the 23rd, but the place was changed at the last moment, much to the disappointment of the Hillcrest people who have been going either to Fernie or Michel all summer to witness games that should have been played elsewhere. Bellevue put in a claim also for this match, but as their ground is just about large enough for a decent lawn tennis game, the claim could not be entertained. The game at Michel was a draw, one-one, and a replay has to take place at Blairmore on Saturday the 30th.

Mr. J. E. McLeod, of Chinook, arrived here last week end, and succeeds Mr. Peter Montalbetti as teller at the local branch of the Union Bank of Canada. Mr. Montalbetti has taken a position in the general office of the West Canadian Collieries.

Professor Michael Hambourg and his two distinguished sons, Jan and Boris, have established a conservatory of music at Toronto and will have branches throughout the Dominion. Mr. and Mrs. Boris are well known musicians, the latter world famous as a cellist.

A boiler and heating equipment are being installed at the local arena, which will add much to the comfort of dressing rooms and lunch room, and assist very materially towards the making of good ice by providing hot water.

G. M. Margach, representing the Radio Corporation, of Calgary, has been in town for the past week or more, installing radio apparatus for Dr. Lillie and others. The instruments installed here have been very successful.

Houses accommodation is the greatest problem confronting Blairmore today. Although all the builders available have been engaged the whole year in erecting cottages and apartments, not a house is available at the present time.

Of the 300,000 people attending the recent Iowa State Fair, it is estimated that from one-third to one-half were farm boys and girls. Youthful minds take impressions quickly and the wholesome educational exhibits produce culture and useful results.

Dr. Lillie's radio receiving set on Monday night got into distinct touch with broadcasted programmes from Havre, Montana; San Francisco, California; Denver, Colorado; Regina, Saskatchewan; Salt Lake City, Utah; Portland, Oregon; Vancouver, British Columbia; Great Falls, Montana; Calgary, Alberta; Tacoma and Seattle, Washington.

Short Crop in France

Whole Wheat Bread to Replace the White Loaf

Whole wheat bread will replace throughout France the pure white loaves and rolls that since the war have received such a warm welcome back to the French dinner table. This is due directly to the fact that this year's wheat harvest in France is estimated much below the yield of last year, when there was a bumper crop of 88,000,000 quintals.

It is feared that before the 1923 wheat crop can be reaped the country will have to buy some 20,000,000 quintals of foreign grain wheat to meet the requirements of the population.

Great Strength in Tiny Bodies

Lifting Powers of Certain Insects Compared With Man

Probably the most wonderful feature of a mosquito is its musculature. This may seem a ludicrous statement, but a great surprise waits anyone who for the first time examines one of these insects under a glass. Size for size, a mosquito's wing muscles are equal to an eagle's. Even on a calm day, a mosquito can fly forty or fifty miles without a halt; and with a helping wind, three times this distance! The ordinary housefly, too, has astonishing wing strength; tests have shown that when it desires, it can fly a distance of 150 feet in a second—110 miles an hour straight-ahead. Imagine a man who could lift 72,500 pounds! He would have all known "strong men" of past and present beaten so far that comparisons would be ridiculous. But that is what our average man could lift were he as strong in proportion to his size as a crab; a weight 490 times its own is just a good average lift for a crab! The muscles of a large ostrich, too, will support a weight of thirty-seven pounds.

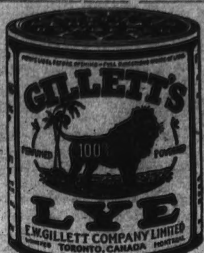

A Belgian scientist found that a bee, weight for weight, was thirty times as strong as a horse. It has been found that an ordinary housefly can lift a matchstick and that in doing so it exerts as much power in proportion to its size as a man when he holds aloft on his feet a beam fourteen feet long by thirty inches square. Even a very small bug can drag six matches—the equivalent to a man's pulling 330 beams as large as himself.

Spiders sometimes exhibit wonderful strength, especially in conflict. There is a spider in Java that is the dread of all other insects: it makes a web that can hardly be cut with a knife! With spider size is not a waste; with spider size is not a waste; with spider size is not a waste.

One writer states that an ordinary ant can carry ten times its own weight. Personally, I have seen them do far more than this—L. E. Eubanks.

The electric eel, found in Brazil and Guiana, can administer quite a severe electric shock, sometimes strong enough to overcome a horse.

A Good Teacher

Value of Serving Hot Lunches in Schools

Experience has shown that where hot lunches have been introduced into schools, there has been better attendance on the part of the children because of their better physical condition. There have been fewer failures, and the average class grades have been higher. The money spent on the preparation of backward children might far better be spent in making possible the hot school lunch.

Mental efficiency is dependent upon physical well-being. A child's brain cannot work if he is not supplied with the proper food. A tired, inactive child has a tired, inactive brain. From The American City.

PALE AND SICKLY GIRLS AND BOYS

Need All the Strength That Rich-Red Blood Can Give Them

Youth is the time to lay the foundation for health. Every girl and every boy should have plenty of pure, rich blood and strong nerves. With this, impure blood they start life with a handicap too great to win success and happiness. Rich, red blood means health, fair growth, strong nerves, a clear brain and good digestion. In a word, pure blood is the foundation of health.

The signs of weak, watery blood are unmistakable. The pale, irritable girl or boy, who has no appetite or energy, is always tired out, short of breath and does not grow strong. A victim of anemia—the greatest enemy of youth. There is just one thing to do for these girls and boys—build up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can't afford to experiment with other remedies, for there must be no guesswork in the treatment of anemia. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, giving it the elements it lacks, thus developing strong, healthy girls and boys. Mrs. R. Kitch, Hephworth, Ont., tells us follows what these pills did for her daughter: "I think it a duty to let others know the benefit which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been to my daughter, and I hope this may be the means of inducing some other sufferer to try them. She was weak, nervous and badly run down. She took medicine from the doctor but got no benefit, and finally she was not able to walk to school. I was advised to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I did, and after taking them for a time she was restored to perfect health. I cannot speak too highly of these pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cable Between Continents

Duplication of Pacific Cable From Canada to Australia

When completed, the duplication of the Pacific cable from Canada to Australia and New Zealand, will prove one of the greatest engineering feats ever accomplished. The cable runs from Vancouver and touches Panning Island, Norfolk Island and Fiji. An enormous number of messages pass over it, and although the new line will cost something like two million pounds it will soon justify the expenditure of this enormous sum. More than seven thousand miles of cable will be needed, and one stretch of the line will be the longest in the world—a distance of 2,452 miles. Some idea of the amount of work that this cable will have to do may be gathered from the fact that nine million telegrams are telegraphed to and from Australia every year.

Ten Years' Homicides

List is a Terrible Blot Upon Civil Order

During the last ten years there have been 35,000 unlawful homicides in the United States, almost as great a number as the country's loss through natural participation for two years in the greatest war in history. Ninety per cent of these deaths are directly traceable to the use of poison and the indiscriminate carrying about of them in the pocket.

Many of the people thus killed could not be better spared than most of the lives lost in the war. At the same time, the use of poison and the indiscriminate carrying about of them in the pocket is a disgraceful blot upon our civilization and the sanctity of law as against the individual caprice of hatred, revenge or even just resentment.

The practice of carrying a pistol by people who have no function or official sanction is dangerous, harmful and ridiculous. Winnipeg Tribune.

Will Make Investigation

U.F.A. Probing Working of Cheque Stamp Legislation

The United Farmers of Alberta intend to make a searching investigation into the working of the cheque stamp legislation. It has come to their knowledge that some of the live stock commission men are charging the cost of the stamps back to the stockmen, and that this also applies to transactions with farmers in connection with grain shipments.

The position taken by the U.F.A. is that according to the act such a course is illegal, and a wire has been sent to the Minister of Finance asking if this charge can be legally exacted.

Strange Geographical Theory

German Scientist Says American Continent is Drifting Farther West

is the American continent drifting westward and slowly leaving Europe behind it. It is, if the theory proposed to the Germans of the British Association at Hull by the German geologist, Wegener, is correct. Dr. Wegener declares that the various continents originally were joined at the poles, but that now they are drifting away from the poles and from east to west. America is moving westward faster than Europe, he said, and Greenland still faster than America. He added that this movement had been proved by experiments at observatories in Europe and at Washington.

In the discussion which followed Prof. Turner, of Oxford, said there were no astronomical observations worthy of serious consideration in support of Wegener's theory. Greenland, he admitted, had an apparent drift, showing a change of three-quarters of a mile in position between 1923 and 1907. All other evidence, however, was against the existence of changes in latitude and longitude.

A Simple Little Cown for the Oil Light Beats

Pretty Little Man

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U.S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to all ordinary oil lamps. Burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 579 N. DuMont Ave., Minneapolis, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Getting Rich

Quickest Way Is Not Always Safe and Sure

Two full-page magazine advertisements come to our attention. Both point the way to wealth—no they say. One, in the most reputable advertising medium in the country, advises you to "make the money you work for, work for you." The advertiser is the Government. It offers you treasury securities. "In only five years your $50 becomes $100," the advertisement says. "Not a very quick way to get rich, to be sure, but a good way to get rich surely. The other advertisement is in an old journal. ## Red Cross Nursing Outposts

Extending Nursing Facilities to Outstanding Sections in Saskatchewan

The Red Cross will establish one of its Nursing Outposts at Kelvington, thus bringing the total of hospitals and outposts operated by the Red Cross in Saskatchewan to eight: four at Paddockwood, Carleton Place, East, Robart, Bengough, Cul Knife, Meadow Lake and Kelvington.

The Red Cross has also decided, working in co-operation with the Rural Municipalities of South Valley No. 7, and Lombard No. 37, to place district nurses at Colgate and Bromhead, the cost of such service to be divided equally between the Red Cross and the municipalities.

This decision was reached at a recent meeting of the committee on Medical and Nursing Services. Reports presented to the committee showed that during the six months of the year, nursing days in the six outposts in operation for a whole or part of that period totaled 1,435, and that 35 babies were born.

The Council of R.M. of Bengough No. 40 are so well satisfied with the work being done in the Red Cross Outpost there that at a recent meeting it was decided to make important alterations and extensions to the present building, or build a new, larger and more modern one.

The two years for which the Red Cross agreed to operate the outpost at Paddockwood expire in October, and the people there have petitioned for a renewal agreement, and in so doing refer in terms of high praise to the splendid services rendered to them in the outpost location. The far removed from all other medical or nursing help.

The Red Cross has also authorized the establishment of an outpost at Medstead on condition that a suitable building be provided, but steps in that direction have been deferred until next spring.

Eleven graduate nurses are now employed permanently by the Red Cross in Saskatchewan. The expenditure for the past twelve months in equipping and operating outposts and maintaining district nurses in the field has been approximately $20,000, while donations for this work have amounted to about $4,000.

Old Hundredth

"Old Hundredth" has been variously ascribed to Martin Luther, Dr. Jno. Dowland and William Franck. Dr. Lowell Mason wrote quite a treatise on the old tune in 1822, saying emphatically it was written by Guillaume (William) Franck in 1543. But later musical historians and antiquarians who have investigated more closely say it was composed by Louis Bourgeois, born about 1550 and died about 1672—some say in the massacre of St. Bartholomew, in 1572.

Editorial Apology

The editor of a small paper in a remote district of Southern California found himself unable to insert his usual column of births, marriages and deaths. Thinking that some apology was needed for such an untoward circumstance, he inserted the following, in clear, black type: "We regret that owing to pressure upon the space several deaths have been inevitably postponed."

OIL LIGHT BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U.S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to all ordinary oil lamps. Burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 579 N. DuMont Ave., Minneapolis, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Quickest Way Is Not Always Safe and Sure

Two full-page magazine advertisements come to our attention. Both point the way to wealth—no they say. It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, it is due to indigestion. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying the worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

It's a fine thing to keep out of trouble

but it's a finer thing to know how to get out of trouble after you have gotten into it.

Many people thoughtlessly get into trouble by loading up with heavy, indigestible foods which fail to supply the essential elements for repairing the daily wear on their nerves and body tissues.

It is well to know that Grape-Nuts with good rich milk is a highly nourishing food, providing all the necessary nutritive and mineral elements in proper form for ready assimilation by the system.

When you make Grape-Nuts a substantial part of your regular daily diet, Nature will quickly assert herself and build healthy nerve cells and sound body tissues.

Crisp and crunchy Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and malted barley, is a satisfying food for breakfast—a welcome answer to the call of appetite.

The familiar Yellow package contains more nourishment in less bulk than any other cereal food.
